It should be pointed out that Euriade is a fabulous Project where young people from all over the world have a unique possibility to open the World of another Person, another Community and another Country through the Real Dialogue. I can hardly wait to participate in it, be involved into the warm hearted and hospitable atmosphere, share ideas and emotions with youngsters and colleagues.

Elena Lukianova (teacher)

The world is full of unique opportunities, which can become true one day. For many years I have dreamed about something just like that and still don't believe it has been realized. Life is unpredictable, so I just hope it will be something delightful to be memorized, to be carefully kept in my heart and mind. To practice my English, to find out more about something, to be yourself, to be absolutely into the art, to find new friends ... These are my expectations from Euriade. I'm looking forward for it impatiently!
